

World Lymphoma Awareness Day

Living with lymphomas and CLL can be hard and affects how people are feeling.

67% of people living with lymphoma said they had experienced emotional effects in the past 6 months according to the 2024 Global Patient Survey on Lymphoma & CLL.

Side effects of diagnosis and treatment*

These concerns can be addressed when people talk honestly with their medical team

It can also connect them to specialists and resources.

However, many are NOT talking about how they are feeling.

Did not speak to their doctor about how they were feeling*

When carrying these challenging feelings, it can be hard to focus attention on a loved one in need.

Most caregivers are also affected.

91% of caregivers experienced emotional effects in the past 6 months *

IT'S TIME FOR SOME HONEST TALK

Having honest conversations with the people around them can help people affected by lymphomas.

If having the conversation feels awkward, download the Honest Talk Conversation Starter. The digital postcard can be shared with your medical team or others to help open a dialogue.

Visit www.worldlymphomaawarenessday.org today.

* According to the 2024 Global Patient Survey on Lymphomas & CLL